99th Running – Saturday, May 6, 2023 (Spring Meet – Kentucky Derby Day)

3-Year-Olds at One Mile on Dirt at Churchill Downs

Stakes Record – 1:34.18, Competitive Edge (2015)

Track Record – 1:33.26, Fruit Ludd (2014)

Name Origin: Formerly known as the Derby Trial, the one-mile race for 3-year-olds was moved from Opening Night to Kentucky Derby Day and renamed the Pat Day Mile in 2015 to honor Churchill Downs' all-time leading jockey Pat Day. Day, enshrined in the National Museum of Racing's Hall of Fame in 2005, won a record 2,482 races at Churchill Downs, including 156 stakes, from 1980-2005. None was more memorable than his triumph aboard W.C. Partee's Lil E. Tee in the 1992 Kentucky Derby. He rode in a record 21 consecutive renewals of the Kentucky Derby, a streak that ended when hip surgery forced him to miss the 2005 "Run for the Roses." Day's Triple Crown résumé also included five wins in the Preakness Stakes – one short of Eddie Arcaro's record – and three victories in the Belmont Stakes. His 8,803 career wins rank fourth all-time and his mounts that earned $297,914,839 rank second. During his career Day led the nation in wins six times (1982-84, '86, and '90-91). His most prolific single day came on Sept. 13, 1989, when Day set a North American record by winning eight races from nine mounts at Arlington Park. At Churchill Downs, he won with a record seven mounts on June 20, 1984. His local dominance is amplified by a record 34 riding titles – 15 Spring Meet and 19 Fall Meet riding crowns. ... When known as the Derby Trial, the race served as the final prep for an impressive group of 13 Kentucky Derby winners through the decades, mainly in 1940s and 50s. The race was first run in 1924 and that inaugural running was won by Black Gold, who returned to win the Derby. Others who swept both races include Triple Crown winner Citation (1948), Hill Gail (1952), Dark Star (1953) and Tim Tam (1958). Horses that failed to win the Derby Trial but won the Kentucky Derby include Triple Crown winners Whirlaway (1941) and Assault (1946), Lawrin (1938), Gallahadion (1940), Ponder (1949), Middleground (1950), Determine (1954) and Iron Liege (1957). Assault and Iron Liege finished off-the-board in their respective runnings of the Trial, while the others were runners-up in their renewals. The most recent Derby Trial winner to play a significant role in the Kentucky Derby was B. Wayne Hughes' Don't Get Mad, who finished fourth to Giacomo in the 2005 Derby.
